MEMORANDUM

TO: Fargo Native American Commission

FROM: Whitney Fear, Native American Commission Chair

DATE: October 5, 2022

RE: Unbiased Review Firm Initiative

Native American Commission members,

I met with Wes Philome and Faith Shields Dixon for coffee last Friday to discuss a current initiative to have the City of Fargo hire an unbiased, independent firm to review and provide feedback on the fatal Fargo police officer-involved shootings of Shane Netteville, an Indigenous man, and Andrew Martinez, a Hispanic man. They shared that this initiative is something that the family of Shane wish to see come to fruition.

In addition to their concerns about the conclusion of Attorney General Wrigley as the death of Shane Netteville being the result of a justified police shooting, the family of Shane has concerns about how the situation was handled.

They were given very little time to see the body cam footage prior to its release to the public. They were not given an answer about whether Shane received life-preserving measures from first responders after he was shot (the body cam footage ends as the police approach the vehicle). The footage was replayed multiple times during commission meetings and this subjected his family to witnessing the shooting multiple times while police answered questions.

Shane lived for about four hours after he was shot but his family was not contacted until after he died, leaving them with a missed opportunity to have said their final goodbyes and be with him when he passed away. When asked if the person they detained identified Shane that morning, it was claimed they could not answer that.

The report from BCI is absent in what was released to the public. As the family of Shane has expressed their wish to see this review done, I feel that it is important that we honor their wishes by joining the Human Rights Commission and Police Oversight Board in indicating our formal support of this initiative.

Please review the initiative above as well as the information/footage regarding the incidents prior to the meeting tomorrow as this will be a priority item to vote on as a board.

Requested Action:

That the Native American Commission share a vote of support for the proposed initiative that would have the Human Rights Commission and Police Oversight Board recommend that the City of Fargo hire an unbiased independent firm to review and provide feedback on the fatal Fargo police officer-involved shootings of Shane Netteville, an Indigenous man, and Andrew Martinez, a Hispanic man.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, Our country was made up of people from every nation on Earth, who are declared equal not only in freedom but also in justice, both of which are essential for a healthy human civilization; and

WHEREAS, The Indian Child Welfare Act was established in 1978 with the intention to protect Indigenous children and to promote stability and security of tribes and families. The Act established minimum Federal standards for the removal and placement of Indigenous children in homes that reflect the unique values of their culture; and

WHEREAS, The establishment of the Indian Child Welfare Act served as legislative action that led to the dissolution of the routine practice of placement of Indigenous children in residential boarding schools and adoptive homes; and

WHEREAS, In 2013, residential school survivor Phyllis Jack Webstad shared the story of having her new orange shirt taken away from her on her first day at boarding school. Since then, orange has been a reminder of how no one cared for her or other Indigenous children. This story was told during the St. Joseph Mission Residential School Commemoration Project and Reunion event in Williams Lake, British Columbia, and served as the inspiration for what became known as “Orange Shirt Day;” and

WHEREAS, The House of Commons in Canada has established an official day of remembrance for the children and families affected by residential boarding schools. This is part of the reconciliation process with the First Nations, Inuit and Metis people and is observed annually on September 30th; and

WHEREAS, Reconciliation efforts such as the recognition of Indigenous People’s Day in the City of Fargo and Moorhead have led to renewed hope for Indigenous people to feel a sense of worth, care and cohesive belonging in communities through acknowledgement of events in the past.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That We, Dr. Timothy Mahoney, Mayor of Fargo; Bernie Dardis, Mayor of West Fargo; and Shelly Carlson, Mayor of Moorhead, do hereby proclaim Friday, September 30, 2022 as in the Cities of Fargo, North Dakota, West Fargo, North Dakota, and Moorhead, Minnesota. All cities commit to remaining vigilant in efforts to facilitate continued dialogue with all parties who wish to work collaboratively to address racial inequalities in the metro community.
