

Fargo Police Department Internship Program

The Fargo Police Department Police Department Internship program exposes, educates, and involves students in day to day police operations. The internship program fosters student's interest in a law enforcement career and builds a mutual understanding between the student population and the police department. The students will acquire an understanding of law enforcement functions within their community, whether or not the student decides to enter the profession of law enforcement. The program strives to instill values in the student such as law abiding habits, attitudes, and practices as a contributing citizen of the community.

The Fargo Police Department Internship Program is an unpaid, eight week program that operates from June through July. Interns will be exposed to all three divisions of the police department and its specialty units.
