Resolution Adopted Authorizing the Issuance of Refunding Improvement Refunding Bonds, Series 2015B (Attachment "C"):

The Board received a communication from Director of Finance Kent Costin stating the Finance Committee is recommending that Refunding Improvement Bonds Series 2008E be refinanced as market conditions are favorable for future interest savings. He said the expected savings is estimated at 13.9% or $3 million.

Terry Heaton, Client Representative with Springsted, Inc., said the timing of the sale is good. She said nine bids were received representing 49 financial institutions, which is a large number. She said the low bid, from Janney Montgomery Scott, LLC, carries a true interest rate of 2.4671% which is less than estimated for the 18-year remaining term. This translates into a higher savings of more than $3,804,565.00, she said.

Commissioner Williams moved the Resolution entitled "Refunding Improvement Refunding Bonds, Series 2015B" and referred to as Attachment "C" be adopted and attached hereto.

Second by Piepkorn. On call of the roll Commissioners Williams, Piepkorn, Gehrig, Sobolik and Mahoney voted aye.

No Commissioner being absent and none voting nay, the motion was declared carried.

Request for a Waiver Associated with Sidewalk Installation Denied:

The Board received a communication from Barb Cook, 2710 10th Street North, stating in 2014 she became aware of a planned sidewalk installation and requested a waiver from the Planning Commission. She said she felt that the sidewalk on the south side of 28th Avenue was an unnecessary tax expenditure, would have unnecessarily destroyed nature, significantly minimized yard privacy in addition to eliminating the option of parking in her driveway. She said the Planning Commission voted twice on her waiver and it was her understanding that this was considered an impasse and was told she could appeal to the City Commission. She said the following day the City offered to install the sidewalk closer to the street to permit driveway parking at a shared cost of $1,700.00 with the understanding that if she chose to request a waiver the offer would be rescinded. She said she received notice in 2015 that the City intends to install the sidewalk at one of two locations with a cost share of $2,865.00 due to contractor rates. She said the cost share is a significant expenditure to her as she is on a fixed income and feels that it would be reasonable for the City to fund the entirety of the cost of moving the driveway crosswalk due to the uniqueness of the circumstance.

City Engineer April Walker said installing the sidewalk was found feasible and ordered as a result of an investigation following a complaint in the area. She said the work was bid and under contract last year; however, it was delayed and bid in this year's contract because removing the one driveway and replacing it with a new crossing plate could not be done without Ms. Cook's consent. The portion Ms. Cook is paying for is actually half of the cost of the new installation of the driveway cost, she said, with the City paying the other half and for the side yard sidewalk. She said Ms. Cook is seeking relief past the driveway cost. There is an option of the amount being special assessed to Ms. Cook, she said, and there may be assistance for paying for the special assessment if needed, based on income qualifications.

Commissioner Piepkorn said he has concerns about setting a precedence by allowing a full waiver; however, he would support an option of having Ms. Cook pay the initial cost of $1,700.00 rather than $2,865.00 being charged to her, due to the year delay.

Commissioner Piepkorn moved the request for a waiver associated with sidewalk installation adjoining a lot on 28th Avenue North be denied and the cost share to the applicant be reduced from $2,865.00 to $1,700.00.

Hearing on a Dangerous Building Located at 1411 First Avenue North:

A Hearing had been set for this day and hour on a dangerous building located at 1411 First Avenue North.

The Board received a communication from Deputy Inspections Administrator Bruce Taralson stating this is the day and time set for a public hearing on a dangerous building removal order for the structure located at 1411 First Avenue North. He said the notice was issued July 8, 2015 and contained a deadline of August 14, 2015. The order required removal of the structure because it had been damaged to the extent of more than 50% of its value.

Attorney David Garaas stated that the building's owner, Gary Reinhardt, requests the City delay action relating to the demolition of this property until after November 6, 2015. He said he does not feel the Board has the right to proceed because there is nothing in the packet that was distributed verifying proof of mailing of the notice to the owner by registered mail or verification of posting of the notice on the property.

Steve Lewis, Lexstar Realty, said there is a purchase agreement for this property and the neighboring property. He said the purchaser has plans to tear both houses down after a closing date on or before November 6, 2015 to rebuild for his business. The purchaser is in the process of obtaining financing, he said.

Commissioner Piepkorn said there has been plenty of time to demolish the building and the neighbors are not happy and the property can still be purchased.

Commissioner Sobolik stated the end result will be the same, either the house will be demolished now or wait till later. She said it is best to side with the neighbors, a vacant lot is better than what is on there now.

In response to a question from Commissioner Williams about Mr. Garaas's concerns about the registered mail and physical notice, Assistant City Attorney Nancy Morris said she believes those requirements have been met; however, she will review the notices to see if there are any defects and they can be remedied.

Commissioner Williams said there are dozens of properties around town that are in various states of disrepair and one tough house can take a neighborhood down for a long time. He said the Board wants to be supportive of the issues the City Inspectors address daily.

Rental Housing Inspector Thomas Penuel said the biggest problem encountered has been obtaining access. In this case, he said, it took an administrative warrant to gain access to determine whether the damage was more than 50% of the value. Often the exterior does not tell the whole story, he said.

Mayor Mahoney said north side residents have requested more be done as far as the condition of some rental properties and the Planning Commission will be looking into it which could address some of the issues of access and or Ordinances.

Planning Director Jim Gilmour said the Fire Department will likely be involved for code enforcement and to speed up the process.

Commissioner Piepkorn said there is a need to balance out private property rights and the rights of all citizens to live in a safe, clean city.

Commissioner Sobolik made the following motion: In accordance with Fargo Municipal Code Ordinance Section 21-0405, a hearing on the building inspector's report was held on August 31, 2015, at which time the City Commission received testimony. Based on the testimony of the building inspector and others I move the adoption of the following findings of facts with respect to the building located at 1411 1st Avenue North:

- a. The structure has been damaged or deteriorated by more than fifty percent (50%) of its original value.
- b. The building is unsafe and unfit for human habitation.
- c. The building is dangerous to the health, moral safety or general welfare of the people of the City of Fargo.

and it is further moved that the City Attorney be directed to prepare written findings of fact in accordance with this motion and further order the owner or anyone claiming an interest in the building to vacate, repair or demolish the dangerous building within 10 days hereof, or at such other time as agreed, and if the owner fails to so, to order the building demolished and the costs assessed back against the property as provided by law, contingent upon the City Attorney's office review of the notices.

City Auditor Steve Sprague said it was necessary to republish the special assessment list, and the Hearing is for both Item No. 26f and Item 26g as listed in the agenda. He said the assessments are for Dutch Elm disease removal, mowing or snow removal.

No appeals have been filed in writing against any item appearing on such special assessment re-inspection list and no person is present at this Hearing to appeal or offer any objection thereto.

Appeal of the Denial of a Conditional Use Permit to Allow Off-Premise Advertising on Lot 1, Block 4, Urban Plains by Brandt First Addition Continued to September 28, 2015 (2633 55th Street South):

A Hearing had been held by the Fargo Planning Commission on August 4, 2015 to consider a request for a Conditional Use Permit to allow Off-Premise Advertising on Lot 1, Block 4, Urban Plains by Brandt First Addition and the Fargo Planning Commission at such Hearing recommended that the Conditional Use Permit be denied.

The City received an appeal of the denial of the Conditional Use Permit from Urban Plains Land Company LLC which requires that a Public Hearing be held by the City Commission.

The City Auditor's Office published a Notice of Hearing stating this is the time and date set for said Hearing at which time all interested persons could appear and would be heard.

Planning Administrator Nicole Crutchfield said she will combine her explanation for all four appeals in Urban Plains due to intent of the requests being the same. Conditional Use Permits are specific to a land use request, she said, and do not normally come to the City Commission; however, the Planning Commission voted against the item and the applicant has appealed. She said the applicant is requesting off-premise advertising basically on four sites surrounding the Urban Plains area to promote and highlight the Scheels Arena. Locating a sign outside a particular parcel automatically classifies it as an off-premise sign, she said, and such signs would be allowed to advertise for not only the arena, but for other purposes as well. She said this brings about discussion on the Sign Code and whether updating is needed. She said staff feels more time is needed to understand the feelings of the Board and the community on signs, particularly billboards and for direction on how to move forward. The vote on this case sets a precedent, she stated. She shared a draft of the proposed signs, and stated that the height and scale of the signs are the primary concern.

Scheels Arena General Manager Jon Kram said he feels the advertising is important as an avenue for marketing and making the events more successful. He said the process is taking a lot of time and there have been multiple roadblocks

Commissioner Gehrig said the applicant has worked to make this a beautiful sign and feels the rules are too restrictive.

Commissioner Piepkorn said he is supportive of the Scheels Arena and having signs near the arena; however, he is concerned about the precedent this would set. He said he feels signs should be in the vicinity of the building and this is too far away.

He said he supports returning the item to staff. He said he served on the Sign Code Committee several years ago which went in-depth into the sign code. It is not good to open it up to allow advertising everywhere, he said.

Commissioner Sobolik said this was a contentious issue for the Planning Commission too. The Planning Commission supports the Scheels Arena and agreed there was a need for signage, she said; however, there are concerns that under a conditional use permit, there are no regulations about what signs could go up. The intent of the Urban Plains development is not the same as it started out, she said, which needs to be taken into consideration. She said staff would like to do more work with the applicant to find something that will work. She and Commissioner Piepkorn could assist staff in looking at some options, she said.

Commissioner Sobolik moved the Hearing be continued to 5:15 o'clock p.m. Monday, September 28, 2015.

Second by Piepkorn. On call of the roll Commissioners Sobolik, Piepkorn, Williams and Mahoney voted aye.

Civic Center Feasibility Study – Final Report Received and Filed:

City Administrator Bruce Grubb said the Board approved the advertisement of a Request for Proposals (RFP) for consulting services relating to a potential repurposing of the Civic Center to a multi-purpose performance facility. Seven proposals were received on February 6, 2015, he stated, and the Civic Center Task Force selected HVS/JLG/Schuler Shook as the preferred consultant team. The consultant team presented an interim report on June 22, 2015, he said, and at this time, the Civic Center task force has received and reviewed the final draft report with the consultant team. He said the report looked two options which are utilizing the Civic Center by taking it from its current state into some sort of multi-purpose facility or whether to take it down and start over with something new.

Catherine Sarrett, Project Manager for HVS, shared the project scope and timeline, as well as the market analysis, trends and participation analysis and comparable venues. She said user and stakeholder interviews were conducted and the role of performing arts within the community was looked at. The consulting team developed building program recommendations, demand projections and a financial analysis, she said, as well as looking at economic and fiscal impacts and the entertainment index. She said the area is expected to continue to grow and has a low unemployment rate. She said there is a hole in the local market for an indoor venue of the size being considered. House seating of between 2,000 and 2,400 is being recommended, she said, with staging capacity for touring theatrical shows and a multi-purpose theatre.

Todd Medd, JLG Architects, said one thing they heard was that architecturally, this cannot be focused on one group. He said it is important that the space be activated day and night for the majority of the days of the year to get the most bang for the buck for the community. He said three levels of seating gives the most opportune design from a venue standpoint, and a big issue is the height of the existing Civic Center. He said costs are similar; however, there are functionality issues with the Civic Center and a higher contingency is recommended because of the unknowns. There are advantages in starting from scratch, he said.

Lee Dobrinz, JLG Architects, compared repurposing the Civic Center with a new design. He said there may be savings in keeping the roof as it is; however, the tradeoff would be loss of volume and functionality. The new design could be orientated with the lobby on the west side for a great pre-function space which would allow better use of how the skyway intersects the building, he said. The building is in a good location downtown and can be part of the redevelopment that is happening along the river, he said, and a new design could more easily be crafted to be aesthetically pleasing.

Ms. Sarrett said the study indicates the need and a desire for more performing arts in the community, which this project would provide, as well as enhance the downtown efforts. An estimate to renovate the existing Civic Center is more than $55 million, she said, and new costs would be over $51 million. She said it is projected that the Center would operate at an approximate $140,000.00 loss per year. The same employees managing the Fargodome would also operate the Performance Center, she said, and events could be co-promoted. A funding plan could include fundraising efforts, she said.

Commissioner Piepkorn said the report is encouraging and a good first step, although there is work to be done to have it break even. He said it is critical to work to make the Center break even. He said while it is important to be careful about government sponsored things, he feels it is important to draw people here and have a vision to look to in the future.

Commissioner Williams said he is interested in finding out more about other Centers in peer cities, such as the one in Durham, NC or Appleton, WI, and their success. Now with the market analysis done, he said, the next step would be to find out if the private sector will step-up and fund the majority of it, as well as finding an operational model that makes sense.

Commissioner Gehrig said in a free market, if there is a demand as the study shows, and Fargo is fortunate enough to have a young, educated community to use a center like this, it can succeed if it is built the right size and the right things are done. If $60 million is spent up front, he said, and $140,000.00 is lost, at best year after year, it would be hard to support. He said if partners can be found and the costs can be reduced to where the City is not investing so much in it, he could support it.

Interim City Administrator Bruce Grubb asked that the report be received and filed and that the Civic Center Task Force continue work to determine the next steps.

Commissioner Williams moved the Civic Center Feasibility Study - Final Report from HVS/JLG/Schuler Shook be received and filed.

2016 Preliminary Budget Approved: Public Hearing Set for September 28, 2015:

Mayor Mahoney said more input has been received since the preliminary budget presentation on August 14, 2015. He said changes have been incorporated for some of the final requests by Department Heads and Commissioners. The next step, he said, is to approve the preliminary budget, either as presented or as amended, and set the time and date for the public hearings (tax levy and budget) as required by State Law. He said the budget at $282 million is one million lower than last year. The budget is balanced and includes a 2.25 mill property tax cut, he said, and has the equivalent of 17 new full-time employees, City Hall, and remodeling the downtown fire station. He said department heads have been asked to reduce travel and overtime and to extend the life of City vehicles and technology. He thanked each of the Commissioners for their input and for helping make him aware of what needs to be looked at in the upcoming years. He said the population increase is more rapid than anticipated and the growth of the community and service demands are being kept up with. Flood risk mitigation projects are critical, he said.

Interim City Administrator Bruce Grubb said it was a very healthy budget process this year, and he thanked the Commissioners for their willingness and participation.

Commissioner Piepkorn complimented Mayor Mahoney on the budget process and said it was a pleasure having all the Commissioners involved.
