Staff updates and Staff development activities:

- We have hired two 10-hour Page positions. Monica Lipinski at the Main library and Madeline Revier at the Carlson library. We are excited to have those positions filled. We are currently accepting applications for a part-time Library Associate I at the Carlson library. This job posting is open through August 26th.
- Earlier this month, Tech and Electronic Resources Librarian Ben Daeuber attended a Koha US User group conference in Monterey, California. Koha is the Fargo library's new integrated library system, and this conference offered educational sessions on the system, as well as round table discussions, and featured vendors.
- The Staff Development Team treated library staff to a well-deserved End of SRP Pizza party on Friday, August 5th. Thank you to the Friends for their contributions to the Staff Development Team.
- The library is planning to unveil circulating tablets for children later this month. Called Launchpads, these tablets come loaded with high-quality, ad-free learning apps and are shelf ready to circulate. Currently we have 3 tablets for ages 3 – 5, 3 tablets for ages 5 – 7, and 2 tablets for ages 8 – 10 that will be available at the Main library. We are excited to offer these tablets to our patrons and further expand our support for parents looking to introduce their young children to technology in an educational and responsible manner.

- Thank you to Friends for donating $350 for the continuation of the Crafternoons at Carlson program. Crafternoons at Carlson will start up again on Sept. 12th. Their support is greatly appreciated by the Children's department.

Summer Reading Program numbers and info:

Adult programming:

- The Adult Summer Reading Program numbers for completed booklogs are: Main: 113, Carlson: 199, Northport: 89. The winner of the grand prize drawing (a FitBit fitness tracker) was Nancy G. And just for comparison, last year's (2015) Adult SRP numbers were: Main: 104, Carlson: 154, Northport: 54.

Teen programming:

- Teen SRP had a total of 89 logs turned in. This is a good number of entries, but considerably lower numbers than previous years. (Teen Librarian Bree Schmidt was on maternity in April, May, & June so we're guessing that has something to do with the lower numbers).

Children's programming:

- Registration numbers are down: 2063 (2402 in 2015). We have some ideas where this comes from that Amber will discuss this at the Sept. board meeting. Completion numbers held steady (these are the number of how many books were given out): 526 readers (503 in 2015) 145 pre-readers (128 in 2015). Hours read and activities completed were a mixed bag but on the whole held steady: 21,590 hours read (22,415 in 2015) 6450 activities completed (6360 in 2015). Children who completed the 30-hour book and also completed the Reader's Challenge will get their picture in the newspaper on Saturday, August 27th.

Chair Helen Levitt thanked the library staff for all their hard work and creativity.

Director's Report

Tim Dirks directed the board to his report in the packet.

As noted, on July 29th Dirks attended the Quad Parking Lot Planning Meeting. This space contains 40 parking spaces for visitors to City Hall and the Library. It will be in place for two years, during the construction of the new City Hall. This additional parking is very important for the continued patronage of the library.

The parking lot located on the former Howard Johnson site will be utilized by city hall employees. The groundbreaking for the new City Hall will be on Monday, August 22nd.

The disruption on the 2nd Street/1st Avenue North intersection may go into mid-November.

Statistical Reports

July Usage

As expected, we are beginning to see the impact from construction in the area. Door count and program attendance are down, compared to July 2015. However, we report strong volunteer hours and internet signup. We are lucky to have Melisa Duncan, Community Relations Specialist, here to keep people informed of the changing parking environment.

Total circulation is down just over 1% year-to-date.

Herb Snyder asked why program attendance is down in locations that are not affected by construction. Tim Dirks stated that types of Summer Reading Programs vary from year-to-year and the children's department tries to keep programs fresh by using different approaches. Also, some programs are limited to a smaller number of attendees for quality purposes. In addition, because the Main Community Room was not always available, we were unable to offer programs which draw the largest crowds, such as the zoo visit. Dirks stated that Amber Emery, Children's Services Manager, will be at September's Board Meeting to explain the attendance difference in detail. Beth Postema stated that two popular programs had to be cancelled, due to medical issues of the presenter and inclement weather. The loss of those two programs, both scheduled at the Carlson Library, definitely affected the attendance numbers.

John Strand inquired about the impact of having an elementary school next door to the Carlson Library. Dirks stated that we have not seen a huge rush of students showing up at 3:30. We have prepared for extra children by having children's staff available in the afternoons and also offering Crafternoons on Mondays. This has been well attended. We have a good relationship with the school. Carlson is a busy branch with more young folks coming in. The school being next door has been nothing but positive.

July Financials

In July, we received donations from the Friends of the Fargo Public Library ($3,000 for One Book One Community) and the Women's Club ($300). With 58% of the year lapsed, we have expended almost 56% of our annual budget. Revenue has been impacted somewhat by the construction.

Friends of the Library Report

Bob Jensen, President of the Friends of the Fargo Public Library Board, reported that the Friends have contributed $3,000 to the One Book One Community project and $350 to the Crafternoons Children's Program at Carlson. The Friends are looking forward to other requests coming from the library.

Because we are aware of parking concerns, our September 6th meeting will be held at the Northport Community Room.

The Main Library book store has been offering a $.50 book sale during the months of July and August, which we believe has been successful. We have been receiving a number of donations and so our inventory was increasing to the point we were running out of room. The success of the book sale has helped in reducing inventory and raising money. The Friends are not planning on having a fall book sale, relying on in-store sales instead.

Chair Helen Levitt thanked Bob for his report and asked that he convey the library's gratitude to the Friend's Board.

New Business

A. "Welcome to your Library" update

In continuing to be aggressive in getting the word out about all the services the Fargo Public Library offers, Dirks stated that welcome cards have been sent to people moving to town. Director Dirks introduced Melisa Duncan, Community Relations Specialist, and asked that she explain the project.

Melisa stated that it was a team effort that resulted in the mailing. We have a fabulous resource in the library's electronic resources called Reference USA, which provides addresses of individuals and businesses that have recently moved from more than 10 miles away. The reference staff prepared a database, showing 689 individuals that recently moved who did not have a library card. We created a card, inviting new residents to the library and suggesting they get a library card, had it professionally printed and American Mail House took care of the mailing. We will also have the cards available for outreach events.

Herb Snyder stated that it might be a good idea to ask that they bring the card with them when coming to the library so we have an idea of how much interest was generated. Also, he thought it may be worth a write-up in the American Library Association publication.

B. “May We Suggest” Book Selection Service

Beth Postema presented a recent addition to the library’s readers advisory service. The idea of a form-based reader’s advisory was first discussed after a webinar provided by ALA and was officially launched this summer. The patron completes a questionnaire and library staff put together a guide within 7-10 days, listing 4-5 authors and 7-10 titles. Titles are limited to what is in our collection, both electronic and printed. Since it has been a soft launch, we foresee that once more guides have been completed, we’ll be confident in doing more marketing. Amber Emery is interested in beginning a “Children’s May We Suggest” service, possibly the first half of 2017.

Chair Helen Levitt commented on the fantastic creativity of the staff. It is mind-boggling what can be pulled off when working together.

Public Comment
